

In Celebration of Classified School Employee Week

Your work here is valued, as are you;

Without classified employees, what would we do?

Kids would go hungry; schools and grounds would be a mess;

Each student's school experience would be a lot less.

There would be chaos in parking lots; phones would ring off their hooks;

Mail wouldn't be delivered; no orders would be placed for supplies and textbooks.

Computers wouldn't function; students' medical needs wouldn't be served;

Parents who don't speak English wouldn't have their voices heard.

Instruction would not have the level of support many students need;

You help them with research, job training and skills to read.

Vehicles wouldn't be maintained, risks wouldn't be properly assessed;

Recruitment would falter and new hires and benefits wouldn't be processed.

Payrolls wouldn't run, agendas wouldn't be posted for view;

And don't even get me started on registration for our students who are new.

Data wouldn't be entered and neatly arranged in a multitude of reports;

Student information wouldn't be processed for attendance, counseling and sports.

There would be students who don't have a way to get to school;

No construction, repair and maintenance at our sites would be very uncool.

Classified employees are a vital part of every school day.

And San Dieguito has the best, I am happy to say!

Your work is greatly appreciated. Thank you for all you do.

Happy Classified School Employee Week!
